SCIENTIFIC ANALYSIS OF VEDIC PHILOSOPHY

Dear Sir/Madam,

Enclosed kindly find scientific articles listed below for your benevolent approval. Since you are a well known scholar of various religions including Hindu Philosophy, therefore, I shall feel highly obliged, if you could kindly go through the articles and send me your critical views and suggest improvements, if any.

Sir, it is an era of Science and in accordance with the vast knowledge inherent in you, it is possible to work out a formulae to project Hinduism at the world forum as a perfect, natural and hence 'Supreme Dharma', you may Sir, agree, that Hinduism should ultimately stand out as a universal 'Dharma', if proved scientifically. I am of the firm conviction, that the entire 'Hindu Dharma' is possible to be proved as totally based on science and so a debate should be initiated at the parliament level and carried upto UNITED NATION to formulate a common Dharma. You will Sir, get convinced with my view point, provided you throw away the armour (कवच) of Literature and Arts enwrapping the entire writings of our scriptures, right from vedas upto 'Ramcharit Manas'.

This armour is very charming and sweet, like the juice and pulp gripping the small tiny seed of a grape. (कृपया सत्यम् शिवम् सुन्दरम् लेख को देखें) During the recent decades, we have gathered strong 'Samskars' of specific type of teachings, which we have been passed on to us as a rich heritage. But such approach had been entirely by the scholars of Arts and Literature. Thus, naturally they were more or less charged with emotions and sentiments exaggerated in many ways and projected the vedic knowledge as occult and mysterious. My view would look prima facia as silly and unconvincing. Thus you may like to shoot out some hard objections, which if brought to my notice shall be replied. Otherwise also, I am foreseeing some possible questions, the answers of which shall come up in my future articles now in hand. However, your serious objections, will inspire me and prove as magnetic compass to our journey in placing 'Bharat' as a world teacher once again. There is now urgent need to do so, to mitigate the charge of communalism imposed on Hindus in the parliament every now and then. Thus, it is the duty of every Hindu to rise to the occasion and assert the truth boldly as the Hindu Dharma is fully based on science.

I solicit your blessings and active cooperation for publicising these ideas through all available media and take up the matter to the parliament and upto world forum for discussion.

With warm regards,

Sincerely yours
